Transcontinental travelers and Kansas Citizens alike know Fred Harvey's Westport Room as one of the best restaurants in the city. Its smart appointments, excellent food and fine service have made it the favorite meeting and stopover place of residents and tourists. Beneath the large murals by Hildreth Meiere, depicting the historic Westport Landing which was to develop into Kansas City, the finest "covered-wagon" steaks are served, as befitting the capital of the beef country. In addition, the rich menu boasts many other succulent dishes and specialties. A pleasant and intimate Cocktail

Room adjoins the Westport Room. Supplementary, round-the-clock food service is provided in the large Restaurant supplemented by the Snack Shop and the Soda Fountain. Traveler's needs and gifts, men's and women's wear, books, candy, liquor and smokers' articles are sold in a number of Fred Harvey shops in the large Union Station concourse. This is one of the several large Fred Harvey operations in passenger stations, the largest of which are in Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Los Angeles and at the Albuquerque Municipal Airport.
